EVENT CHAIR

PROFESSOR STEPHEN MAYSON

Honorary Professor of Law,
University College London

For more than 30 years, Prof. Stephen Mayson has advised law firms around the world on issues of strategy, economics, ownership, and valuation.

He has a particular interest in the reconfiguration of the legal world being driven by competition and the Legal Services Act 2007, while maintaining a firm belief in the need for professional ethics and integrity in business.

Stephen is known for having an independent mind, and now divides his time between non-executive and advisory appointments, and policy work.

Stephen has worked with hundreds of clients around the world (including law firms, barristers' chambers, corporate and government legal departments, and regulators), helping them to make difficult decisions in times of structural or industry change.

STAGE OVERVIEWS

THE CROWN STAGE

Led by Prof. Stephen Mayson, will explore the future of legal services and the effect that ongoing uncertainty is having on, leadership, performance, and regulation within the legal profession.

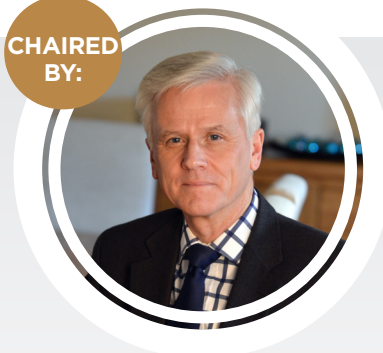

Key speakers will address the challenges of leading in a time of exponential change and discuss how this could shape firms of the future. The Stage will explore how challenging traditional models can be the elixir firms need to cultivate growth within the hybrid working environment. In addition, speakers will delve into and ask how prepared are you? - How should leaders inspire action within their teams whilst evolving businesses in the face of cultural, economic and global disruption and regulatory reform.

THE CHANCERY STAGE

Led by Christina Blacklaws, will address the continuous evolution and 'change management' methodology, strategic leadership, business performance and more. The 2023 stage agenda will also discuss the 'all changing' disruption to Law Firm culture, the evolution of traditional roles such as the combination of the CFO & COO as the role becomes more centralised and deliver into the strategic guidance of the C-Suite in supporting the future of the firms.

The sessions will explore automation to innovation, whilst outlining how to achieve value in pricing when faced with an increasing automated competition as well as the rise of digital services as a key firm driver.

MASTERCLASS

INTELLIGENT LEADERSHIP MASTERCLASS

10:30 - 12:00

Topic: Intelligent Leadership – How to Capitalise on Increasing Disruption

This highly interactive masterclass builds on the Intelligent Leadership keynote. Whereas the keynote focuses on Why and What, this session will focus on the How.

Specifically, we will:

- Recontextualise leadership and how this can be applied to your organisation.
- Capitalise on the expertise in the room. So you are encouraged to share your experiences (Chatham House Rule).
- Develop action plans that will enable you to create a highly adaptive organisation without threatening your existing cashflows.

TRAINER

ADE MCCORMACK

Disruption Readiness Advisor,
Auridian Consulting

LEGAL OPERATIONS MASTERCLASS

12:30 - 14:15

Topic: The 'Dynamic and Lean' Legal Professional

The expectation of the modern legal professional not only requires an understanding of the law but also an understanding of what customers need so that they can deliver it right first time, every time.

Using an immersive case study, the lean legal entrepreneurial course will help attendees to understand the principles of lean, creative problem solving and facilitative leadership, all essential skills in the legal profession. The outcomes and learning from the dynamic lean legal professional course include:

- Understanding the principles of lean enterprise to deliver value adding services (customer value, process optimisation, level and quality of delivery as demanded by the customer)
- Legal Operations optimisation - blockers and enablers (more for less, people, process, technology, and data).
- Creative problem-solving tools and techniques (defining the problem statement, understanding the causes, solving using divergent and convergent thinking and project management)
- The power of facilitative leadership for the legal leader to drive performance (culture, visual management, Gemba walk and Kata questions and measuring what matters)

MASTERCLASS

LEADERSHIP MASTERCLASS

14:30 - 16:00

Topic: Leadership & Practice-Management Challenges Facing Legal Services

With both global and nationally self-inflicted economic woes adding further financial and market uncertainty as the legal sector continues to emerge from the pandemic, many law firms and chambers have yet to fully compute what best practice might be for managing their teams to develop their business, satisfying both the client, the firm and the workforce. Rarely has leadership been more crucial but under such pressure from often unfamiliar demands, and managers at every level need to be aware that their understanding and manner of leadership are critical to the firm's success.

The objectives of this Masterclass are therefore for delegates:

- To gauge what impact the “new normal” workplace, client needs and the economic environment have on the management of law firms;
- To consider ways in which management might be optimised; and
- To gain a greater understanding of different leadership models, and how to develop leadership and an effective culture in the new workplace.
